Annex 2

Statement on the Cumulative Voting to Elect Director, Independent Director and Supervisor

I. Separately number the proposal on electing director candidate, independent director candidate, supervisor candidate of shareholders' general meeting. Investors shall vote on each candidate in each proposal.

II. The number of vote declared shall be the final vote of election. For each proposal group, for each share the shareholder holds, he or she holds the same number of votes equivalent to the total number of the proposals on electing a director or a supervisor. For example, a shareholder holds 100 shares. There are 10 directors to be elected in this general meeting, 12 candidates, then a shareholder holds 1,000 shares for voting.

III. A shareholder can maximumly cast votes equivalent to the proposal. Shareholders vote on his or her own will. He or she can vote for one with all the votes or vote for others with different number of votes. After the voting, each proposal shall count cumulative votes.

IV. Example

A listed company holds a shareholders' general meeting with cumulative voting, electing the Board and Supervisor. 5 directors to be elected, 6 candidates; 2 independent directors to be elected, 3 candidates; 2 supervisors to be elected, 3 candidates. Items to be voted as followed:
